

the CAMBRIDGE UNION

Defending Free Speech Since 1815

The Cambridge Union Society is the world's oldest debating society. Founded in 1815, the Society hosts events for its members, made up of students and alumni of the University of Cambridge.

Across the years the Union has hosted a range of famous faces and events. From President Roosevelt and Winston Churchill, to Robert De Niro and Dua Lipa.

The Union is run by a student committee led by the President. Famous ex-Presidents include Clare Balding and John Maynard Keynes. The Union also has a notable and eclectic list of members including Stephen Fry, Robert Oppenheimer, and H.M. King Charles III.

The Union is perhaps best known for its Thursday night debates, where members and invited speakers propose and oppose a motion brought “before the house”, in a similar way to the House of Commons.

While associated with the University, the Union is an entirely separate entity. Run as a charity, the Union hosts debating competitions and programmes in 19 countries around the world and supports education and underprivileged areas in the UK. 100% of profits from The Orator go to the Union, to help with the delivery of its charitable aims and for the upkeep of this stunning Grade II listed building.

Gin

Cambridge Distillery

Walks through the meadows surrounding Cambridge inspired William and Lucy Lowe to create gins that capture the taste of the English seasons using botanicals grown in and around their home.

Cambridge Dry Gin 5.5

Traditional juniper combines with fresh basil, rosemary, rose petal, angelica seed, blackcurrant leaf and the effervescent citrus finish of lemon verbena. The result is an homage to the aromatic, sensorial delight of an English meadow at the height of summer.

Japanese Gin 8

World's first gin made with Japanese botanicals. Refreshing yuzu peel, aromatic Shiso leaf, toasted white sesame and sansho pepper spice are carefully selected to create a dry, crisp gin with green notes that perfectly capture the aromatic subtlety of the Japanese palate.

Truffle Gin 10.5
